

A collage of 15 images showing various views of the National Industrial Museum of Iran. The images are arranged in a grid-like fashion with rounded corners. The top row features three sky shots with clouds. The second row shows two more sky shots and a larger one with more clouds. The third row includes two sky shots, a close-up of a building's facade with the text 'صنایع کاشی' (Ceramic Industries) and 'ایران' (Iran), and another building shot. The fourth row shows two building shots, a large building with many windows, and a smaller building. The bottom row is dominated by large, lush green trees, with a smaller tree shot on the right.

TRENDING PRODUCTS

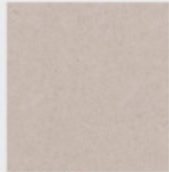

The thickness of 30x30 ceramic tiles is usually between 8 to 10 millimeters, which can vary depending on the brand and type of production. Tiles with greater thickness generally have higher strength and are more resistant to pressure and wear. In sanitary spaces, the appropriate thickness of the tile is very important as it needs to have good resistance to moisture and temperature changes. Thinner tiles are easier to install and, due to their lighter weight, are ideal for vertical surfaces like walls. Overall, the choice of thickness should be based on the intended use and environmental conditions.
